

tion, this not received much support. Only Oregon seems to have approved the revision idea, the senator's own State delegation refusing to give him support. Oregon also declined to give a ship subsidy, but it is not intended to make the declaration for the improvement of the merchant marine under any particular plan. Various plans are now being considered by the joint congressional commission, and the platform will not attempt to anticipate the commission's report.

Several Changes in Platform.
Some interest was displayed during the day in the effort that is being made to secure the incorporation of an anti-polygamy plank in the platform. It is urged and practically by the various women's organizations that have been so active in their fight to unseat Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, prominent main. Committee, said there could be no harm in a declaration against polygamy any more than in a declaration against bigamy. But Senator Smoot thinks that any declaration on the subject will be to his disadvantage in the Senate. Also it is felt there that the possibility of any declaration might materially injure any Republicans in several Western States where there is a large Mormon vote.

Several other suggestions not now contained in the proposed platform were declared for international arbitration. Another urging that the Interstate Commerce Commission be given more power to enforce its decisions will be offered.

CAUCUSES HELD.

State Delegations All in Session Yesterday.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, ILL., June 20.—With the time occupied in caucuses of State delegations, which, with a few exceptions, were mere ratification meetings held to approve State Convention programmes, the day preceding the opening of the Republican National Convention has been the quietest ever known as the forerunner of similar gatherings. Senators and representatives in Congress were thick on the streets, and in the hotel lobbies, as they are in the national capital when a particularly important day of debate is in progress in Congress.

Figures prominent in the political strife of former National Conventions everywhere. They mingled with delegates and others not on the inside talking of everything, which promised even momentary interest.

When the leaders reached Chicago a few days ago they found nothing for them to do. The programme for the convention was mapped out weeks ago and there was a full realization that it was unalterable.

The Iowa Idea.

The principal divisions were offered by the caucuses of the Iowa, Illinois and Washington delegations. Governor Cummins presented to the Hawkeye delegation the "Iowa Idea" in the form of a plank settling forth the "idea" as declaration for reciprocity and reduction of tariff schedules. It was rejected by the delegation and this sounded its death knell so far as the present convention was concerned.

In the Illinois caucus, the contest was for the chairmanship of the delegation. Senator Cullom was opposed by the Governor Yates faction, but won out handsily. It is conceded that his defeat would have meant his re-election to the Senate.

In the Washington caucus Senator Arkeny was elected national committeeman against the combined opposition of former Committeemen James M. Ashton and J. S. McMillan, both of whom were candidates for the position.

The Indiana Puzzle.

What has been popularly termed the "Indiana Puzzle" was one of the features of the day. The members of the delegation from the Hoosier State met to determine their course in regard to the boom for Senator Fairbanks for the vice-presidency. Senator Fairbanks attended the meeting and addressed the delegates. He talked for fifteen minutes, the meeting adjourned, and the delegates went away, leaving the puzzle to be solved by a rite of his statement that he did not desire his State to present his name for the vice-presidency.

Expressions of genuine regret at the absence of Senator Fairbanks from the meeting were heard on every side. Men who have played leading roles in the art of making tickets and platform men, whose personality, shrewdness or qualifications of any kind have been recognized on State or national levels, have been missed in the hotel lobbies and the various headquarters.

Many Faces Missing.

Some of these have figured in Republican conventions for a quarter of a century. Notably, the late Senator Matthew S. Quay, of Pennsylvania, and the late William J. Sewell, of New Jersey. One whose absence is felt more, perhaps, than that of any other man is the late Marcus Hanna, though his debut on the political stage is of more recent date. Numerous pictures of the late senator are being shown at the Coliseum to-morrow when the delegates will be seated. The men who have passed away are politicians as well as statesmen. They may not be so well known in national affairs, and their names not so effective to conjure with, but they are ready and competent to perform any task that offers. The difficulty is that the task is not there. Contests worthy of the name are utterly lacking. The fight between the La Follette and "stairway" factions in Wisconsin; the contest between Addicks and the anti-Addicks faction in Delaware; the "Lily White" and "Black and Tan" factions of Southern States, were disposed of with so much dispatch that they failed to furnish the gossip necessary to an interesting convention.

About all that was left to feed the craving of delegates for excitement and furnish a point of conversation was the

"LILY WHITE'S" CAMPAIGN

They Have Inaugurated Fight Against "Black and Tan."

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, ILL., June 20.—A vigorous campaign has been inaugurated by the white delegation from Louisiana to have the Committee on Credentials of the convention reverse the action of the National Committee, Ex-Governor Warmoth, of Louisiana, is in charge of this campaign, and an elaborate counter-charges of disloyalty to party take history in the case.

Governor Warmoth is authority for the statement that National Committee Warmoth, of Louisiana, is in charge of this campaign, and an elaborate counter-charges of disloyalty to party take history in the case.

The temporarily successful faction went before the National Committee with the charge that the "Lily Whites" were pledged to exclude the negro from politics wherever possible. This statement will be combated with figures showing that the National Committee, Ex-Governor Warmoth, of Louisiana, is in charge of this campaign, and an elaborate counter-charges of disloyalty to party take history in the case.

The preamble to the resolution, which states that the colored race, they are so concerned to operate as to them. The Cashin resolution aims to remedy this condition. Another portion of the resolution declares in favor of a more stringent system of criminal laws against penance.

Sloan Symphon, who was a member of the Rough Riders in the Spanish War, was chosen by the Texas delegation to notify the presidential nominee of his nomination and was vigorously applauded.

DISCUSSED FAIRBANKS.

Indiana Will Not Present His Name to Convention.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, ILL., June 20.—The Indiana delegation held a meeting in Governor Durbin's room to-day, when the presidential nomination of Senator Fairbanks was discussed. After an adjournment it was stated that they were just where they were before and without definite plans. At the same time it was said that the attitude of the delegation was that Indiana would be pleased to have Senator Fairbanks receive the nomination. A motion declaring that to be the sense of the delegation was made, but Senator Fairbanks said that was stronger than he desired, and the motion was withdrawn. Members of the delegation are divided as to the position the State should take in view of this development, but individually several said they would like to have the senator nominated, and the State would appreciate the honor.

Senator Fairbanks made a speech of some length, saying that he had not been a candidate and was not a candidate now; that he had been urged to become a candidate, but that he had not changed his position from the time he was first mentioned for the place. The senator would not be put in the attitude of seeking the place. Members of the delegation said that the senator would accept, but it was not the intention of Indiana to present his name to the convention.

West Virginia Endorses Elkins.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, ILL., June 20.—At a meeting of the West Virginia delegation Senator Elkins was endorsed for Vice-President. Elkins was declared to be the delegation's second choice.

At a meeting of the Illinois delegation to-day Senator Shelby McCullom was elected chairman of the delegation over Governor Yates.

OBITUARY.

Charles H. Read, Jr.

Mr. Charles H. Read, Jr., son of the late Charles H. Read, D. D., for many years pastor of the Grace Street Presbyterian Church, died Sunday in Washington, where he had been living for some time.

Mr. Read was exceedingly well known in this city, where he spent many years of his life. He was about sixty years of age. He was a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, where he graduated the University. He was in the celebrated charge of the cadet corps at the battle of Gettysburg. By profession Mr. Read was an architect. He planned a number of beautiful residences of this city, but by the Planners National Building and the Union Theological Seminary. These were his monumental works in this city. The Planners Bank building was designed by him soon after he returned to this city as a matured man. It is a structure that has been much admired. He had hardly finished this before beginning the important and interesting task of designing the plan of groups and churches of the University Seminary. Every one who visits the institution pays tribute to his genius, for the classic group is invariably a masterpiece. Some years ago he left for the North, where he had been living since. Deceased leaves one sister, Mrs. Mary Ball, of this city.

The remains were brought to Richmond yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this morning from St. Paul's Church.

John J. Buster.

After an extended illness Mr. John J. Buster died on Wednesday at the Soldiers' Home, in this city.

Mr. Buster was nearly sixty years of age, was a native of Halifax county, where he was deputy sheriff for many years. He was later on to-day in the warehouse business at Clover, Va. Mr. Buster was never married. He leaves one brother, who is a resident of Richmond.

The funeral took place on Thursday from the Soldiers' Home chapel. The interment was made in Hollywood.

Funeral Services.

The funeral of Mr. William H. Chick, a native of Richmond, took place at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Salem, N. C., at the home of Mr. Chick.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 20.—Mr. Edmond Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, died at the home of his eldest son, city of Virginia, last evening at 6:30 o'clock, aged eighty-three. Death was due to pneumonia.

Mr. Stone was born in New York, and at the age of sixteen went with his parents to Huron, Ill. He entered the ministry at an early age, and remained a member of the Illinois Methodist Conference until the close of the Civil War, in 1865. During this time he was pastor of several Illinois churches, and was an important church in Chicago just before the outbreak of the war.

Leaving the ministry after the war, Mr. Stone entered business in order to educate his sons at the higher institutions of learning. Only one son, Mr. Edmond Stone, Jr., survived. His wife died in October, 1900, when Mr. Stone came to this city to reside with his son. The surviving members of the family are Professor Edmond Stone, of the chair of astronomy, at the Lander McCormick Observatory, University of Virginia, and Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press.

The remains will be interred in Toulon, Ill., by the side of his wife and children, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Lucy Haymond.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BEDFORD, VA., June 20.—Mrs. Lucy Haymond, widow of L. D. Haymond, for many years a very prominent member of the Bedford bar and a gallant Confederate soldier, died at her home on Bedford Avenue, aged about seventy-three years.

She possessed a vigorous intellect and unusual executive ability, and was very prominent in all benevolent enterprises of the community and very active in all the interests of the Episcopal Church, of which she was a devoted member.

For a number of years she was the president of the Ladies' Confederate Memorial Association, of Bedford. She is survived by two sons, Edgar and Luther Haymond, and two twin sons, Mrs. Lizzie Byrne, of Chicago.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., June 20.—Mrs. Lucia A. Weisiger, wife of Dr. S. Weisiger, died at her home on Friend Street, in the fifty-sixth year of her age. She had been sick for several weeks.

Mrs. Weisiger was the widow of the Circuit Judge D. S. Weisiger, of the Circuit Court of this city. She was a daughter of the late Judge Riddick, of this city, and a sister of Mayor Riddick, of Norfolk. She was a woman loved and esteemed by all who knew her.

A son and two daughters survive her—Mr. Samuel Weisiger, of Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Mary and Lucia Weisiger, of Petersburg. The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock from old Blandford Church.
